Manufacturers Warranty

TERMS OF WARRANTY

Bell Radio-Television Corporation Ltd. guarantees to replace or repair within 90 days from the date of sale to the customer any component which in the opinion of the Company is faulty or below standard through construction or material. Failure to observe the undernoted conditions renders the warranty null and void. This warranty is valid only if all three parts are properly completed and the factory coupon received by us in Auckland within 7 days from date of sale.

CONDITIONS OF WARRANTY

- (a) The equipment must have been purchased at the full list price from a Bell Dealer.
- (b) This warranty does not extend to any faults arising from misuse, neglect, accident, tampering with or unauthorised modification of the equipment or any attempt.
- (c) The Bell Radio-Television Corporation Ltd. does not accept liability for any consequential loss or injury arising from any of their products.
- (d) This warranty protects only the original purchaser whose name appears on this Registration Card.

GENERAL

The warranty covers the replacement of parts only. Claims under this warranty must in the first case be made to the Bell Dealer from whom you purchased the receiver. The Dealer is entitled to make a charge for labour and collection and delivery of the receiver. Should the Dealer decide to return the equipment to Bell Radio-Television Corporation Ltd., please note that the guarantee covers replacement of parts only. A charge will be made to cover the cost of handling, labour, packing and carriage. No responsibility can be taken for damage in transit. If an estimate of the cost is required before repairs are commenced, this should be made quite clear to the Dealer before repairs are commenced.

A detailed description of the symptoms noted is of considerable help in ensuring that the equipment is serviced satisfactorily. All correspondence must quote the Serial Number of the equipment. All equipment returned for service MUST be sent carriage paid.

In the case of T.V. Receivers the picture tube is covered by a warranty from the tube manufacturers, and we recommend that the tube warranty card supplied with each T.V. Receiver be kept for possible reference.
